Man Found Dead, Seated In Chair

Heart Trouble Causes Death Of Joseph Wiech, Of Union Township

Joseph Wiech, aged 63 years, of 66 High street, was found dead, seated in a chair at his home, by his brother, Domenick Wiech, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. Coroner Orville Potter, who was summoned, announced that death was probably due to heart trouble.

Wiech, who lived alone, had not been seen since Friday evening, and neighbors, fearing that something might have happened to him, summoned his brother, Domenick Wiech, who made the discovery of his death.

It is stated that Wiech had been in poor health for some time.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New observed a license plate on a machine passing through the city early this morning, few of which will be seen on the streets here this day. It was from the state of Colorado.

Large numbers of visitors were noted at the cemeteries in this city and vicinity on Sunday as flowers were being planted for the summer on many of the graves.

The A. T. and T. Repeater Station property on the New Castle-New Bedford road, is certainly kept in attractive shape. At the present time, it is most appealing.

"The Bivouac of the Dead"

Blow, bugles, blow, soft and sweet and low,
Sing a good-night for them who bravely faced the foe;
Sing a song of truce to pain,
Where they sleep nor wake again,
'Neath the sunshine or the rain—
Blow, bugles, blow.

Wave, banners, wave, above each hero's grave,
Fold them, O thou stainless flag that they died to save;
All thy stars with glory bright,
Bore they on through Treason's night,
Through the darkness to the light—
Wave, banners, wave.

Fall, blossoms, fall, over one and all,
They who heard their country's cry and answered to the call;
'Mid the shock of shot and shell,
Where they bled and where they fell,
They who fought so long and well—
Fall, blossoms, fall.

Sigh, breezes, sigh, so gently wandering by,
Bend above them tenderly, blue of summer sky
All their weary marches done,
All their battles fought and won,
Friend and lover, sire and son—
Sigh, breezes, sigh.

Missouri Young Woman Is Freed By Her Abductors

Daughter Of City Manager Of Kansas City, Missouri, Released For $30,000

RANSOM DEMANDS MET BY FATHER

Young Woman Says Kidnapers Treated Her With Respect And Attention

(International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 29. While police directed a widespread search for her kidnappers today Miss Mary McElroy, 25, daughter of City Manager H. McElroy, laughingly described the 30 hours of captivity which preceded payment of $30,000 ransom.

"I wouldn't have missed the experience for anything," the popular young social leader explained with a twinkle in her blue eyes.

Very Attentive. "My abductors were very attentive to me. They gave me roses and a detective story to read in the basement room where they were guarding me. And they even fixed me up with a radio, an electric fan, easy chairs and a comfortable bed on which they had spread clean linen."

Miss McElroy, wearing two roses given her by the kidnappers, was released today.

McMath Kidnapers Becomes Violent

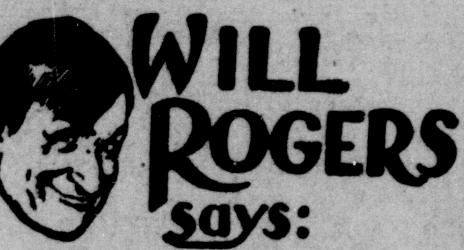

(International News Service) BARNSTABLE, Mass., May 29.—Kenneth Buck, 27-year-old alleged "brains" in the kidnaping of Margaret "Peggy" McMath, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMath of Harwichport and Detroit, was under observation today in Bridgewater state hospital.

Buck, scheduled to go on trial June 12 with his brother, Cyril Buck, 41, in connection with the kidnaping of "little Peggy", who was held for $60,000 ransom, became violent in his cell at Barnstable county jail and after being subdued by jail guards was taken in a strait-jacket to the state hospital.

MRS. RUTH BRYAN OWEN IS PRESENTED TO KING

(International News Service) COPENHAGEN, May 29.—A scene that Hans Christian Andersen might have described was enacted today when Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, America's first woman envoy, presented her credentials to King Christian as United States minister to Denmark.

The native home of the great spinner of fairy tales put on a colorful pageant to honor the symbol of America's new diplomacy. Accompanied by the King's chamberlain in a glittering uniform of scarlet and gold, Mrs. Owen traveled to the palace in a state coach drawn by two jet black horses, caparisoned in silver harness. WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News) CHICAGO, May 29.—Well, the big Chicago fair opened on time. It had to open on time to give everybody making those long speeches a chance to get 'em over before it closed. Even the preacher who was supposed to ask the blessing, stuck long enough to continue it into the doxology.

But it was worth all the praying and talking for. Only thing they had thousands of policemen to block you off at every street to see that you didn't get into it. At that there was 40,000 got by the police and got in.

My old friend Brisbane couldn't get in till he used Walter Winchell's card. I sneaked in Amon Carter's silk hat, me and twelve other mice. If there is anywhere in the world you want to go in a crowd, get an old silk hat (the manager the better). Policemen and ushers have more respect for it than a gold engraved card from President Roosevelt.

But it's a great fair. Don't miss it.

Yours,
Will Rogers

Speedy Action For Gold Bill In Washington

Both House And Senate Promise Action On Gold Standard By End Of Week

PROTESTS HEARD FROM REPUBLICANS

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Administration bill formally declaring America's freedom from the gold standard will become law this week, Democratic leaders of senate and house predicted today.

Confident the move will strengthen the hand of President Roosevelt in seeking international stabilization of currencies, administration leaders were prepared to take extraordinary action if necessary to obtain a congressional decision.

Chairman Steagall (D) of Alabama planned to call the measure up in the house today, with passage probably to be postponed until tomorrow.

Protests Disregarded. Meantime Senator Fletcher (D) of Florida, chairman of the senate banking committee, was seeking an opportunity for senate action before the Morgan investigation is resumed.

Protests of Republican members against bringing the bill—which repeals the gold clause in all contracts—into the house without committee hearings were disregarded by the Democratic leaders.

Enactment of the legislation is expected to pave the way for further action by the administration. One proposal is to impound all gold in preparation for the eventual return to a metallic standard. Another calls for establishment of a free (Continued On Page Two)

Flint Youth And Companion Being Hunted

Police Will Search Indianapolis And Chicago For Son Of Slain Woman

FINGERPRINTS TO BE SCRUTINIZED

(International News Service) FLINT, Mich., May 29.—Fingerprints of Balfe MacDonald, 17-year-old heir to a million dollars, were discovered today in police files here and were to be compared to those of the bloody fingerprints of the murderer of his mother, Mrs. Grace MacDonald.

Balfe's prints were taken after one of his escapades, police said, and were to be compared with those found on the heavy book-ends with which the society matron was beaten to death Friday night.

May Be At Race. Police are searching for the youth and William Terwilliger, 16, who is believed to have fled with him, for questioning in the murder.

Search today centered in Chicago and Indianapolis as the result of Balfe's statements to friends that he intended to visit both the world's fair and the 500-mile auto race.

"I'll kill anyone to go to the races," he is reported to have told intimates. Police have been warned that the pair may be armed.

RECEIVE ORDERS TO START 12 MILLS AT NEW CASTLE PLANT

(BULLETIN) 2 P. M.

Word was received today by D. S. Pyle, manager of the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, to prepare twelve of the 20 mills at the New Castle Works, A. S. and T. P. Co. in this city for immediate operation.

Work will be started at the plant to get it in shape as soon as possible, so that the mills may resume operation. It is expected that they will be in operation within the next ten days.

Mr. Pyle stated that no additional men will be employed here as a result of the re-opening of the New Castle Works, but that the former employees of the New Castle plant who have been working at the Shenango Works and other plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will be shifted.

The New Castle Works has been idle for almost a year and a half, ceasing operations early in 1932.

The entire 40 mills at the Shenango Plant are operating again this week, and with the increased work caused by the resumption of activities at the New Castle plant, will bring the tin plate output at the two New Castle plants almost to capacity.

State Department Gives Approval To City School Budget

Formal approval of the New Castle school budget for the school year of 1933-34 was received today by Dr. C. C. Green, from the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. James N. Rule. This means that the financial setup made by the Budget Committee goes through as made, that the salaries of teachers will be twenty per cent under the Edmonds Act scale, and the $100 increment for teachers of less than eight years experience is suspended.

The salaries in the coming year will thus be equivalent to the net salary paid in the present year, due to voluntary contributions by the teachers.

In order to take action upon the matter, a special meeting of the school board has been called for Friday night, June 2. While no announcement has been made of the purpose of the meeting, it is called for general business, which may include the election of teachers. At the present time no teachers have been elected for the coming year.

While the department now permits the board to cut ten per cent under the law, as provided by the recent action of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, there will be no difference insofar as teachers salaries are concerned, from the present year. At the beginning of the school term the teachers voluntarily (Continued On Page Two)

Memories Of Soldier Dead Are Recalled

Memorial Services Are Held Sunday Commemorating Valor Of Past Heroes

FLOWERS PLACED BY VET DAUGHTERS

Services For Sea Heroes At Bridge Followed By Services In First M. E.

Simple and humble in character, but befitting the occasion, were the various services held here Sunday in memory of the soldier dead of our nation, three services being held by different organizations last evening. At 5:30 the Daughters of Union Veterans, escorted by the Sons of Veterans life and drum corps and members of the uniformed rank, marched from the city building to the Diamond, where they held their ritualistic service, and placed a wreath of flowers at the monument dedicated by them to their fathers, during the recent G. A. R. encampment held in the city.

These services were presided over by Mrs. Pearl Cook, president of Eliza Winans McBride tent, who is department patriotic instructor for Pennsylvania. The invocation was delivered by Mrs. Mary McBride Beisel, daughter of the woman for whom the local tent was named. Remarks were made by Past De- (Continued On Page Two)

Gone is the scoffing, gone the glee, that marked him when a pal was wed, perhaps he realizes now, the shallowness of what he said. WOODIN DENIES HE HAS RESIGNED POST

Secretary Back At Post Today

Expresses Desire To Return To Private Life, Despite His Resignation Denial

HAS CONFERENCE WITH ROOSEVELT

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 29.—Denying he had resigned, because of the revelations of the senate's Morgan quiz, and indicating he desired early return to private life, Secretary of the Treasury William Woodin was back at his post today after a week end cruise with President Roosevelt, aboard the commerce department yacht Sequoia.

Questioned following his return from the holiday trip, Woodin avoided direct questions and said simply:

"I have not resigned."

He also made it clear that he hoped to be free to return to private life, a wish he has often expressed, even before his name was revealed in a list of favored clients of the House of Morgan.

Woodin, former president of the American Car and Foundry Company is known to have tendered his resignation to the president. It is his attitude that he prefers to step out of office immediately if it is felt that the publishing of his name in connection with the Morgan favored client list, is embarrassing to the administration.

leased late yesterday at the gates of the Milburn golf club, near here, two hours after her father had paid the ransom to four men in an automobile on the Kansas side of the Missouri river. Two of the men to whom Judge McElroy paid the $30,000 ransom, scaled down from $60,000, wore masks.

Abducted From Home.

Two armed men abducted the young woman from the palatial McElroy residence Saturday, forcing her to leave her bath and dress. Strapping a handkerchief over her eyes, the abductors took her away in an automobile.

The kidnappers apparently thought Miss McElroy was a child. They told her she was a child, the housekeeper, they wanted to deliver some cosmetics to "the little girl." Miss Christiansen refused to unlock the door, and they drew revolvers and forced their way in, threatening to kill the housekeeper.

They went upstairs, pounded on the bathroom door and ordered Miss McElroy to dress. She soon emerged to face the armed men. Again they appeared surprised that she was a grown woman. They took the girl to the waiting car, explaining to the housekeeper that she would be unharmed if she did as she was told. They would communicate with her father shortly, they promised.

Alarm Is Delayed.

Not until the girl was released was the news of her kidnapping broadcast, the kidnappers having threatened to kill her should the police or newspapers be informed. Police squad cars, armed with descriptions furnished by Miss Christiansen, were sent on a widespread search after the girl returned home.

Somewhat exhausted, Miss McElroy told E. C. Reppert, director of police, and T. Higgins, chief of detectives, of the abduction. Her story was one of a friendly spirit between captors and captive which amazed the police officers.

"I joked with the men and when

The palace guard turned out in full dress uniforms and presented arms as the coach rolled up to a stop.

Received By King.

King Christian, in the red uniform of a general of the guards, received Mrs. Owen in the throne hall, surrounded by uniformed and be-ribboned courtiers.

The chamberlain, Commander Boisen, formally introduced Mrs. Owen to the monarch. She presented her letters of credence, and after formal introductions, she presented formally with the king, who speaks perfect English. Mrs. Owen also conversed with the queen before she left.

The king is a most impressive person," Mrs. Owen said afterwards. "But at the same time was most gracious. I apologized for not being able to speak Danish but told him I planned to learn it as quickly as I could. He said he was pleased over my intentions.

The queen was charming and most friendly. She also spoke brilliant English."

Mrs. Owen was dressed for the occasion in a beautiful gown of egg-shell colored silk trimmed with bands of blue fox fur. She wore a blue toque and slippers and a string of pearls.

SENATOR GLASS RECEIVES THREATS IN MORGAN CASE

holdings in trade-marked foodstuffs, the automobile industry and in building materials will be revealed this week.

An overwhelming majority of the senate meanwhile declared its confidence in Ferdinand Pecora, military special counsel.

The Morgan investigation will be resumed Wednesday, with Pecora probably making public another list of the Morgan "favored clients" who were handed choice securities at sub-market prices. Two such lists have been made public showing groups of political and business leaders getting Allegheny Corporation and Standard Brands, Inc. stocks at prices far below their market values. Three more lists will be made public revealing similar Morgan largesse in utility Corporation, General Motors and Johns-Manville stocks.

Will Show Control.

Pecora will complete the utility phase of Morgan's holdings. After that, he will show how Morgan gained control of trade-marked food products by creating Standard Brands, Inc., a holding corporation for owning securities of food product corporations. A like picture of Morgan's interest in the automobile industry will be revealed through his reorganization of General Motors. Then there will be fresh revelations of Morgan's handling of international loans.

The attack on Pecora by Senator Glass failed to daunt the Sicilian-born New Yorker. Rather than blocking the inquiry, the Glass attack served to consolidate support behind Pecora. It also brought down Glass' head the wrath of many citizens. Glass revealed this himself.

He said:

"No names were signed to the death threats but I had a black-guard telegram from a man in Massachusetts. I thought anyone with money enough to send a long telegram should be put on notice so I wrote in the margin of the telegram in blue pencil:

"I am wasting a three cent stamp to tell you I am not influenced by blackguard telegrams. Then I mailed it back to him."

agreed to return twenty per cent of their salaries to the board to be used for general purposes.

New Castle has made an enviable record in the matter of the payment of school teachers' salaries. Every dollar due teachers has been paid on the day it was due, and the final payment of salaries will be made in full at the close of the school year. This in contrast with scores of school districts in the state that are anywhere from two to six months delinquent in the payment of their teachers.

Campbell, Camp Commander Herman Gilbert of the Sons of Veterans, Patriotic Instructor Mrs. Maud Fisher, after which a red flower was placed in the wreath of the monument, and taps was blown by George Partington of the Sons of Union Veterans.

Services at Bridge.

At the conclusion, the assemblage marched back to the city building to await the water services later in the evening.

Rev. S. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church, delivered the message at the North street bridge when the heroes who died at sea were remembered at services held under the auspices of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Augmented by veterans of all wars the marchers paraded from the city building up Neshannock avenue to the bridge, where flowers were strewn upon the waters of the creek. Mrs. Pearl Cook presided.

In his message, Rev. Joshua said in part:

"Today fine emotions are being created because of the fact that the mind of the nation is being concentrated upon the service and sacrifice of the war of '61 to '65. We cannot help but think of how the ranks of the war have been thinned each year and within a few years there will all be gone, but may the latter years of their life be filled with helpfulness and blessedness.

"We are especially thoughtful just now of the sailors who lost their lives at sea, those who are resting in watery graves. It is very fitting that we think of them and revere their memory. We can best serve our nation at this memorial time by dedicating ourselves to all that is sacred and honorable in our American life.

Should Seek Peace.

"We should dedicate ourselves to the cause of peace and may the prayer of America at this memorial time be that the swords shall be beaten into plowshares and that the principles of the Peace of Peace should rule the nations of the world."

The ritualistic service of the Ladies of the G. A. R. was then carried out, with Mrs. Pearl Cook and Mrs. Florence Gillespie leading. Flowers were strewn upon the waters, a volley was fired by the uniformed ranks of Veterans, and taps was sounded by George Partington.

The ranks of the marchers reformed and they moved down Croton avenue to Washington street, thence to the Diamond and up Jefferson street to the First M. E. church, where the annual Memorial Day sermon was preached by Dr. Norris A. White, pastor of that church.

Civil War Vets Out.

There were five Civil War veterans present at the concluding service. D. M. Clark, commander of Post 100, G. A. R.; R. H. Wilson, John D. Patterson, Ed Welty and John Caldwell.

Dr. White, who is a native of New Castle, recalled the stirring Memorial Days of the past in New Castle, when veterans of the Civil war, not by scores, but by hundreds marched over the earth and cobblestone streets, down Jefferson street to the Diamond and thence to Greenwood cemetery, where they annually held their memorial service.

He recalled the names of the leaders, the straight virulent figure of their chaplain, Dr. Audley Brown; the captain who led them, Capt. Gilman; and the dignified Col. Oscar L. Jackson as he returned for the first Memorial Day in a score of years to his old home town.

Referring to the five remaining members of that valiant band of years ago, he stated that their sight recalled the names of Sherman, Grant, Lincoln and the great leaders of the war, whose men had marched just 67 years ago.

"All honor to the few who are living," he stated. "Honor to all who are dead. It is fitting that with the passing of the years the memory of this memorial scene should have been greatly enlarged to include all our soldiers from the time of the Pilgrim Fathers to the late World war."

"Had it not been for the sacrifices of these noble patriots, who could guess what the course of our government might have been—what fate civilization itself would have met? We have our debt to these heroes of the past. While we pay our respects to these men tonight, we lift our thanks to God above, 'Lest We Forget'.

White Urges Peace.

"Another word remains to be said. What about the purpose and will of our God as we face our present duties? When I am brought face to face with death, I think of life. When war is brought to mind, I think of peace. A challenge comes. Peace and its blessings, that is what all soldiers, soldiers' wives and children want most, and all patriotic Christians, too. That is what Christ came for.

"War cannot end war. We can only find it by seeking peace. What will the outcome of the next war be? It may be the very end of civilization. Surely there is a better way out. Let us then honor the living and dead of our wars by seeking peace. Let us bear witness in the faith of the God of our fathers."

Hold Two Negroes On Theft Charges Of Relief Cards

Dunlap And Moseby Are Accused Of Using Relief Cards That Were Stolen

Two local Negroes, Henry Dunlap and Arthur Moseby, must answer serious theft charges placed against them by Lawrence county welfare authorities at the June term of criminal court, followed a hearing today at which Alderman Wallace J. Ewing held them for trial.

Dunlap faces a charge of larceny and forgery, while Moseby faces both a larceny and receiving stolen goods charge. County Welfare Officer M. B. Hogue signed the informations.

Alderman Ewing heard a group of witnesses testify that Red Cross flour cards, the possession of the county relief office, mysteriously disappeared and later turned up when Ernest Russell called at the Carnegie auditorium to collect the sacks of flour they entitled him to. Anson McCracken, flour distributor for the county, suspicious of the cards, held him for investigation.

Russell said Dunlap had given the cards to him and he had in turn applied for the flour for Dunlap as a favor for a neighbor. Authorities made no charge against Russell.

Both Dunlap and Moseby went to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

DONOR LUNCHEON AT CASTLETON SUCCESS

Most outstanding was the Donor luncheon event held yesterday afternoon in The Castleton dining room by members of Junior Hadassah and was beautifully carried out. Guests numbering approximately forty were given their places about the large table arranged in a "U" shape.

After partaking of a sumptuous menu a program was given, with Miss Rhea Frank, chairman of the affair, giving the welcome greetings. The Junior Hadassah song and invocation followed. Miss Ann Shifman presided as toastmistress and introduced each speaker in a fitting manner.

Miss Mary Pittler, president of the New Castle Juniors gave an interesting talk of their work during the past year; Mrs. Aptaker the Junior advisor and Mrs. L. F. Kohn, honorary president of the New Castle Juniors were next introduced. Two beautiful piano selections by Dorothy Fisher and one by Lena Silverman were well received. Added features, Clever "Personals" by Mildred Levine involving those assembled, proved most entertaining.

Mrs. S. Helfman, former regional president, brought a worthy message as did Miss Eva Goldberg, regional president. The next musical selections that too added to the pleasure of the occasion was vocal numbers by Yetta Rosenblum with Freda Rosenblum, accompanist.

Of extreme interest was the talk given by their guest speaker, Attorney I. A. Swiss of Pittsburgh, the subject being "Romantic Highlights in Jewish History" which was enthusiastically received.

The committee responsible for the complete success of this successful event included Miss Frank, Fay Fisher, Adele Frank, Bella Katz, Bessie Kulkin, Esther Lebo, Mildred Levine, Julia Levy, Sara Love, Gusie Pittler, Mary Pittler, Rosalyn Safier, Ann Shifman and Teelo Simon.

MEMORIAL DAY

MOVED by a prior example, the Grand Army of the Republic, through its commander, set aside May 30, 1868, as an occasion for "strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the defense of their country during the rebellion, and whose bodies lie in every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land."

This duty of love has been discharged annually in the years between, and honor and tributes of tears been paid, not only those who forfeited their lives that the Union might live, but new members added in the time since to the most of our soldier dead.

The day itself, however, has expanded far beyond the first intention and, by common consent, become an occasion of spiritual reckoning, a yearly searching of hearts, and a canvass of progress made in controlling those forces which have cost these and unnumbered millions of human lives.

There is ground for feeling that the will to peace was never more alive in the world. True it would be difficult to demonstrate this in current experience, while existing orders are toppling everywhere, and a map of the world's sore spots reveals the greater portion of its body affected. The fact remains that never before has a positive and expressed antipathy to the institution of war been as "respectable" as it is now; and never before have so many of our leaders of thought joined in the conviction that war is not a permanent and incurable affliction of mankind.

To such conclusion we have been helped by the questions which such occasions as Memorial Day inevitably evoke, occasions when we meet to honor those who have paid the supreme sacrifice in our behalf, and to ask ourselves anew, "Must this forever be?"

NEWSPAPER PRESTIGE WEEK

During the week of May 28, the newspapers of Pennsylvania are observing Newspaper Prestige Week, a week when the newspapers take a little space to call attention to the service they render their communities and state.

This is done not in a boastful manner, not in a way designed to focus the spotlight of public attention upon the newspapers, but merely for the purpose of recalling to the public mind the fact that a newspaper is more than a business, it is a public institution, a chronicler of the events of the day, a well spring of public opinion that should never become contaminated.

Newspapers are not given to publicizing the part they play in the scheme of things. Neither do they expect any adulation for the work they do. Their job is to print the news, honestly, fearlessly, accurately, towards the end that their readers may be informed of what is going on in the world.

Newspaper prestige week then is just a time when the newspapers can survey their work of the year, knowing that they have played an important part in every phase of the workshop of life.

FEWER DIVORCES

Hard times can work great changes in the everyday existence of man. The visitor in America today hardly believes that it is the same America he knew four years ago. Depression is the greatest revolutionist.

The depression has done more to cure the so-called divorce evil than the viewers-with-alarm, could accomplish in many years. The divorce-minded are not to be talked out of the divorce courts; they can be kept out by a lack of funds, which is depression's way.

There never was a time when divorces were easier to get than now, provided one has the wherewithal, and yet fewer decrees are being issued now than at any time of which there is official record, and the records run back to 1887.

Two factors are at work. Many who would like a divorce cannot garner the court and attorney fees, an easy thing for most people prior to 1929. The other factor is that while hard times break up many families they also bring closer together many married couples separated by the influences at work when there is too much prosperity. Thousands of husbands and wives, who could get along without each other in the good old days, now find that cooperation best assures their economic welfare. Love sometimes prefers to lock the window when poverty comes in the door.

All these things being so it would appear that the divorce-reformers can best obtain their ends by wishing the depression a long life.

WHY NOT ADOPT THE CANADIAN PLAN?

J. P. Morgan's disclosures before the Senate Committee brought into high relief the low relief of income taxes when the country needs money to weather an economic depression. Mr. Morgan and his associates paid no taxes because their losses wiped out their actual income. A sales tax, on the other hand, would have caught Mr. Morgan and his partners. It would have caught them in their expenditures for the necessities and the comforts of life. They would scarcely have felt it, though their contributions to the support of government would have been practically in proportion to their wealth.

This lesson in elementary political finance was utterly lost on the House when it rejected the manufacturers' sales tax plan and gave another boost to income tax rates. To be sure, it proposes to stop the leak by which financiers deduct their losses to escape income tax payments, but that is only a temporary expedient, an external borrowed from the British practice without taking over the fundamental principles of British fiscal policies says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

We have no chauvinist criticism for the adoption by the United States of the best features it may find anywhere in the world in order to apply them to our own needs. We owe much of our political heritage to Great Britain, and we are still glad to learn from her. Now British ingenuity transplanted on American soil has found a sales tax works out very effectively. It prevails in Canada. The Senate and President Roosevelt would do well to study its features sympathetically.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

ALL BY YOURSELF
I remember a story that O. Henry wrote. It comes back to me year after year, like the blossoms on the trees, like the spring.

It's not one of his more famous stories. Not the one about Soapy, cold and hungry and tried to get into prison and was ordered to "move on" just as he was about to throw a brick through a window—and was finally "pinched" just after he had heard an anthem from a church and was feeling all pure and renewed. . . . Nor that other most famous story about the poor couple at Christmas time—he had a fine gold watch and she had long, gold hair, and he sold the watch to buy her combs, while she was selling her hair to buy him a chain for the watch. . . . No, the one I remember best is about just two people, a man and a girl.

They met in the street, on a dark night, in New York. And they had both come from the same town. They'd been boy and girl together. . . . He'd come first to the big city, and, as I remember it, he'd gotten along quite well. He was a swell and a slicker, and he wore a yellow topcoat, and he had an assured manner. . . . And he was most patronizing in his manner to the girl from the country. She seemed so much younger than he. She had just come to the city, and her head was in a dream. She was sweet and simple and good. And he did not know what he had become. He did not tell her. He pretended, and she believed him, and was most admiring, and he expanded in warmth of her praise. . . . But, after they said goodbye, after she was gone, he went and put his face against a lamp-post and said something like, "God, I wish I were dead."

All by himself he saw himself as he was, most pitiable, most wretched, and for an instant he did not want to live any more.

I like it, because I think in that story O. Henry saw deep into one human heart. He saw its defeat, its tragedy, to be sure, but he saw its deepest yearning. He saw its central desire to be good. He showed us how a human being feels when he is all by himself, alone and withdrawn from the pressure of other folk. . . . And he reminds us perhaps without intending to do so, that we are most what we would be when we are all by ourselves. And we should listen more to that lonely self than to all the others in the crowd. . . . Because His is the voice we can not ever escape.

IDLE CHATTERERS.

There may be periods of time in the place where you work when you have little or nothing to do. But it is necessary for someone to work.

Your chatter at such times is not only annoying but prevents the busy one from turning out the sort of work he is expected to produce.

Offices and shops are not visiting places. Usually the sort of talk indulged in during the dull hours is glib. Mind ramblings that give the person who is "thoughtless" something to amuse his vacuity.

And you can count on it that the person on the force who has the least that is worth saying, is the one who talks the most.

The chatterer is a bore wherever he may be found—the woman chatterer is no better.

To monopolize the conversation, recount past experiences, to tell stories not a whit more interesting than the experiences that others have had, is the apparent end sought by the loose tongue fellow.

But the idle conversationalist does not know that there are times and places for visiting, but it is never the time or place where others are working.

Don't let your desire for the limelight make you a nuisance.

Business And Labor Control Set New Standard Of Values

Increased Employment Under Government Management Must Be Supplemented By Resultant Demand For Products Say Commentators

While a small section of the public is skeptical of the complete success of the President's plan for the control of industry and the use of public works to increase employment, the country as a whole expects the depression to be conquered, if sufficient speed is shown in execution. While the billions of dollars to be employed by the government will furnish only a limited number of jobs, there are expressions of confidence that this labor will increase consumption and thus extend the demand for outside labor. Some voice the hope that the public works construction may be equitably distributed through the country, and that the least burdensome form of taxation will be employed in providing the jobs.

"In this plan," according to the CLEVELAND NEWS, "President Roosevelt cuts at the depression with a two-edged sword. It is not by chance that he combined job relief and industrial relief. He believes the two are indissolubly connected." The News adds that "it would seem to provide the framework for a new standard of working and purchasing values, based on jobs and augmented sales," and urges that Congress must see that "all classes of citizens are treated alike." The complete change in public sentiment is pointed out by the HARTFORD TIMES, with the statement that "such a plan, presented by President or legislator, as late as a year or even six months ago, would have gone automatically to the waste basket, that it 'would have been declared unconstitutional and unworkable.'"

"It creates additional buying power; it creates additional private employment to provide materials the government requires." The ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS explains also that in the conduct of business, "the bill aims at abuses that both industry and labor are interested in correcting," and that "there will be more reliance on skill of workmanship, efficiency of method and excellence of product." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN finds assurance that "Big Business, with its consolidations or combinations, already formed and held in restraint by anti-trust laws, has been seeking freedom from such hobbies and is expected to accept the plan of Federal control as a fair price for the desired privilege."

The GLENDALE CALIF. NEWS-PRESS suggests that "the request that the government stay out of business has been heard many times, but apparently it cannot stay out, if business is to continue."

"The usefulness of the National Industrial Recovery Bill," in the opinion of the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "depends upon the promptness with which the machinery for which it provides is put into operation."

The YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR holds that the plan "goes back to the good old common-sense practice of putting power in the hands of the right sort of man, and a nation which has been hamstringed for years can be trusted not to abuse its new freedom." The TOLEDO BLADE feels that "while such emergency enactments may tear to shreds the remnants of rugged individualism and vaunted freedom of action in business, they are designed to serve all the people." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS explains that "by setting up voluntary but enforceable self-discipline in all production groups, it brings to a point a demand for socially responsible industry, the need of which has been increasingly apparent; that 'in a generation we have seen decentralized ownership replace centralized ownership; and that 'industry has become impersonal and often irresponsible.'"

"Foremost over a long term is something new, as applying to plans for industry as a whole," thinks the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, while the DANBURY NEWS-TIMES holds that "much will depend upon the leadership, the generosity, the understanding and the usefulness of leaders in every walk of life," and the UNIONTOWN HERALD stresses the fact that "the President may use his own judgment in accepting or rejecting codes of practice."

The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL offers the judgment that "the President has launched the country upon the most radical scheme of economic ever attempted in this country, and at the same time has counterbalanced this program by making sure that it will not put the Treasury into a bottomless hole." The WALL STREET JOURNAL concludes: "In all probability it can be made to serve some part of the great ends toward which the nation is striving. It may not be literally true, as Stevenson said, that 'To journey is better than to arrive,' but it is at least better than standing still." The ABILENE REPORTER looks to the "restoration of the buying power of the people."

Quoting a statement by President Green of the Labor Federation that "six million men will be re-employed," the SAN ANTONIO EX-PRESS adds that "in that event the resultant stimulus to industry generally could be counted upon to put most of the other half of the unemployed back on the payrolls." The PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM asserts that "When the mass stars moving, the greater portion of the economic battle will have been won; that 'when such a volume takes action in any given direction it has all the ruthlessness of a glacier, a avalanche or an evolutionary epoch.'"

The ALTOONA MIRROR feels that "may who doubt the wisdom of the government embarking in such enterprises will support it in the hope that it will afford such a stimulus to private industry that it need not be continued even as long as the two years contemplated." As an illustration of the extension of demand the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT refers to existing contracts to supply raincoats for the forestry army. That it is only an emergency measure is emphasized by the HOUSTON CHRONICLE while the hope that there will be no pork barrel distribution of the public works is voiced by the CHICAGO JOURNAL OF COMMERCE and the OSHKOSH DAILY NORTHWESTERN.

A revenue problem is recognized in the purpose to raise the more than three billions for the public works program. The WASHINGTON EVENING STAR observes that there has been a "proposal to increase the normal income-tax rates and to levy income taxes on stock dividends," but advises that "a general manufacturers' sales tax is considered in many quarters as much less burdensome." This position is upheld also by the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS and the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION. The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Continued On Page Five)

Many Changes Made In State Dog Law

HARRISBURG, May 29.—The Pennsylvania Dog Law enacted in 1921 has been substantially revised by Senate Bill 1390 passed by the recent General Assembly and approved by Governor Pinchot.

The appraisal of damages to livestock and poultry by dogs has been placed entirely in the hands of the agents of the Department of Agriculture. Any appraisals made after May 31, 1933 by local auditors or justices will not be legal nor paid by the state.

Officials of the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, are, therefore, urging all people who sustain losses through dogs attacking livestock or poultry to communicate at once with the State Dog Law Enforcement Agent in the district in which the damage occurred.

The fee allowed police officers for killing and properly disposing of the carcass of each unlicensed dog has been reduced to one dollar.

The fee allowed police officers for killing and disposing of dogs known to have killed livestock or poultry, at the request of the department, has also been reduced to one dollar.

The burial fees as well as the state payments for damages caused by dogs, have also been reduced.

A new provision in the law reads as follows: "Any persons who owns or harbors an unlicensed dog or dogs shall forfeit any right to be reimbursed for any damage to his livestock or poultry by dogs."

Full information on the revised Dog Law can be secured just as soon as available in printed form from the dog law enforcement agents or from the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Many Vested Choirs Participate In Colorful Services Sunday Afternoon

The church was crowded with visiting and local people and the service was beautiful and most interesting.

It open with the procession of the many visiting junior choirs in their many colored robes and with their crucifix, banners and flags and with the senior choir of Trinity church leading them. Adding to the inspiration of the opening of the service was the processional hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The opening sentences were pronounced by the Rev. S. M. Black of St. Andrews, New Castle and St. Luke's, Ellwood City, while the Rev. H. A. Lollis, of the Church of Our Father, Foxburg and Lawson-ham, leading in the psalm. The Rev. F. B. Atkinson of St. John's church, Sharon read the lesson. The Rev. T. L. Small of Christ church, Oil City conducted the Lord's Prayer, Collects and Grace of Our Lord.

The Very Rev. Martin Aigner D.D. of St. John's church, Franklin was the preacher and his address was in congratulation of the Lenten and other offerings of the church schools of the district. The Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church, gave the offertory sentence, presented the offering and made the announcement of the special offerings and the winners of the awards. Dr. Aigner gave the closing prayers and benediction.

The awards made were as follows: St. John's church, Sharon, a flag for the largest offering irrespective of group; a shield to the Church of Our Father, Foxburg for the largest offering in Group Two; a shield to St. John's Franklin for the highest average offering irrespective of the group; a shield to the Church of Our Father, Foxburg, for the highest average offering in Group Two; shields to the Church of Our Father, Foxburg, and St. Paul's Farrell, for an increase of ten percent in offering over last year, in Group Two; a shield to St. Luke's, Ellwood City, Group Three, for an increase of ten percent over the offering of last year.

After the service refreshments were served in the guildroom to all pupils and Church School workers from St. Andrews, New Castle and from out of town.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. C. B. Randall, chairman, Mrs. T. P. Stryker, Miss Lillian Moran, the Misses Eleanor and Dorothy Colgan, Miss Blodwen Davis and Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode. A committee consisting of William B. Howe, chairman, G. Harry Hoskins, T. Gwyn Lewis, and Francis S. Willard Grange Will Entertain Pomona Members

Plan To Have Pomona Grange At Willard Grange Hall On June 7

Plans are now being made by Willard grange for the entertainment of the Lawrence county Pomona grange on June 7 at their hall.

Definite plans were made at a meeting this week concerning the contest between the men and women of the grange in the near future. Each group is to put on a program at a regular meeting. The committee in charge of the women's program is Mrs. Margaret Weller, Mrs. Mae Dean and Miss Wilberta Boak. In charge of the men's program are George Dean, Scott Munnell and Ashley Stevenson.

The program presented at the last meeting was as follows: Song by the grange. Roll call (quotations from the ritual).

Paper, "Life and Activities of Oliver H. Kelley"—Thelma Dean. Talk, "What things most undermine the efficiency of the grange and what can we do to build up the order"—Leslie McCracken. This was followed by a general discussion. Reading, "How the grange received its name"—Bessie Cotton. Grange quiz by the lecturer.

The program closed with a surprise feature of a candy treat by the girls.

Members of the grange decided to enter the state-wide membership campaign in progress now and which will close on September 30, 1933.

Youth's Council Plans Activities

Young People Will Provide Entertainment During Dinner Hour At Convention

The New Castle district Young People's Council, composed of representatives of the Sunday schools in the city, met in the Y. M. C. A. to complete plans for the first activity of the council, which will be to prepare and serve the two meals to the delegates at the Sunday school convention of the county, which will be held in the First Methodist church on June 8.

The young people will present a program of entertainment during the serving of each meal, and it is hoped by this plan to build up a camp fund from which delegates will be sent to the state young people's camp at Spruce Creek.

Ralph Montgomery, temporary chairman, appointed Mary Spence, Central Presbyterian church, as head of the program committee; Marjory Powell, First Baptist, in charge of decorations, and Kathryn McGrath, Highland church, in charge of serving.

The next meeting will be in the form of a picnic at McConnell's Mills on June 16, with Carl Cummings and Edna Jenkins of the Reformed Presbyterian church and Mildred Cowmeadow of the Central Christian church in charge of arrangements.

The need of controlling the debt situation is emphasized by the SALT LAKE DESERT NEWS and the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL. Commenting on the necessity of raising $220,000,000 in taxes to finance the operations, the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER sees a limit in the number of jobs offered, and asks: "Would the result be worth the exercise?" The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS asks if it "would stimulate markets sufficiently to enable private business to provide for the other unemployed." Opposition to the plan is expressed by the BALTIMORE SUN asks: "Are price fixing and production rationing not implicit in the whole scheme and inevitable if it is to be carried out?" The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS declares: "The country is in imminent danger of losing its greatest economic asset—the equality of opportunity by which every citizen can aspire to accumulate a competence and succeed in the employment of capital."

Reviewing the whole problem, the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION comments: "If surpluses can be controlled, wages and profits adjusted and labor employed, the public will not bother much about the details."

New Wilmington May Take Vote On Local Option

Under the local option feature of the beer license law, it is said that the citizens of New Wilmington will ask to vote on the matter at the fall election.

The act provides that if ten percent of the voters of a borough present a petition to council, the council can order the question submitted to a vote. There is no question as to what will happen in New Wilmington if citizens are given an opportunity to vote "wet" or "dry" at the coming election.

Practically all the voters of the borough signed remonstrances recently presented to the county treasurer, but no application for license was presented.

Population To Be Basis Used For Road Split

Population Figures Will Be Used To Divide $400,000,000 Of Federal Funds

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 29.—Population figures will predominate as the basis on which the $400,000,000 federal highway grant voted by the house in the industrial recovery bill will be apportioned to the states, unless the senate upsets a house provision radically departing from the old plan.

For 16 years federal highway grants have been based on one-third state area, one-third mileage and one-third population. Under the clamor of the thickly-populated centers this has been changed.

The basis fixed by the house makes population count for half, with one-fourth area and one-fourth mileage of roads. The approximate amount Pennsylvania should receive on the basis fixed by the house, according to figures inserted in the congressional record by Rep. Fuller (D) of Arkansas, is $21,017,844.

Income Tax Boost Opposed By Swick

Congressman Votes For Substitution Of Manufacturer's Sales Tax

By ARTHUR C. WIDMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Representative J. Howard Swick was one of the minority group in the house which voted for substitution of a general manufacturers' sales tax and opposed final passage of the re-employment bill last week.

By a vote of 137 to 265 the house turned down a proposal to substitute a general manufacturers' sales tax for the administration's tax plan calling for increased levies on low incomes, dividends and gasoline. Congressman Swick spoke in behalf of and voted for the substitution. Representative Cochran of Mercer joined with him in voting for the sales impost.

Mr. Swick, along with Congressman Cochran, voted with the 78 Republicans and Democrats who opposed passage of the re-employment bill carrying the tax program when that measure was approved by a 325 to 76 ballot.

FERTILIZE STRAWBERRIES FOR GOOD PLANT GROWTH

Size of the strawberry crop is correlated with the number of plants produced during the first growing season.

To reach the goal of heavy production proper nutrition is essential. Many growers depend upon stable manure or commercial fertilizer for top-dressing prior to setting the plants. This fertilizer is intended to stimulate the plants until they have reached the proper condition for the application of more concentrated nitrogen fertilizers.

These nitrogen fertilizers generally are applied at two different times, one when the second and third leaves have formed, which is about three weeks to a month after planting, and the other about the end of June. The amount of fertilizer, whether nitrate of soda, sulphate of ammonia, or other carrier, varies from 100 to 125 pounds an acre for each application or 200 to 250 pounds a season. Since these materials are caustic to the plants they should be applied along the row or in a circle around each plant so that the fertilizer does not get on the foliage. Junior strawberry club members should apply about 12 pounds for the season to their plantings.

EGG YOLK COLOR MAY BE CAUSED BY FEED

A number of investigators have proved that egg yolk color may be affected by feed. It is often difficult when candling eggs to differentiate between heat effects and feed effects. This is one reason why many egg buyers show a distinct preference for pale yolk eggs.

Liberal feeding of green feed and yellow corn will add color to the yolks. Most complaints because of dark colored yolks come during the spring months soon after the birds have been given free range. To produce the type of egg that will meet the requirements of the most select trade, it is advisable to keep the birds confined during the greater part of the day.

Two weeks in particular produce egg yolks of objectionable color.

Itching Skin

The minute you finish applying powerful Peterson's Ointment to that fiery itching skin the itching starts to go—in an hour the torment is gone—just rub it in.

It doesn't matter whether you have obstinate eczema, pimples, unsightly rashes, acne, boils or chapped hands and cold sores—one 45 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will prove itself the best and swiftest remedy on earth to correct skin diseases—as any druggist will tell you.

And remember this: If you have so-called athlete's foot—itching, burning feet—lose that crackling, scaly, itchy patches, the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment often ends this in 4 days. And be sure to use Peterson's Medicated Soap—it's great—only 10c.

wheat, should constitute the main supplementary feeds for calves on pasture. This is especially true on early pasture when the grass contains so much water and on late pasture the latter part of July and August when the pasture is dry and the flies are troublesome.

Many calves on pasture grow well up to the middle of the summer and then become thin the latter part of summer. They then go into the barn in the fall in a poorer condition than during midsummer. It takes time and money to overcome this setback. It can be avoided by giving just enough grain daily to keep the calves in fair flesh and growing normally. If the pastures become real dry and short, a little bran and oil meal may be added to the home grains. Calves will then go into winter in fair flesh and normal growth with no setback to overcome later.

HOW TO GROW EARLY SWEET CORN

Select a well-drained, fertile soil for early maturing sweet corn as well as large yields.

Apply stable manure to the soil before plowing, especially when no green manuring crop is turned under. Disk and harrow the seedbed after plowing. Give the soil time to settle and permit the coarse, straw material to decay before planting.

A 4-12-4 or 4-16-6 commercial fertilizer is recommended for the early crop. About 750 pounds an acre may be broadcast before planting. If less than 750 pounds an acre is applied broadcast, about 200 pounds an acre may be applied in the row at planting time. For the later plantings, 200 pounds an acre of 16 or 20 per cent superphosphate in the row, plus a liberal application of manure, will give the most economical yields.

Plant as early as possible after danger of a hard frost is past and where the soil has dried out and is warmed up. About 12 pounds of seed an acre is the rate of seeding required. The spacing should be 2½ to 3 feet between rows, and the plants may stand 9 to 12 inches apart in drills, or in hills 2½ to 3 feet apart with about three plants in a hill. Depth of planting is about one and one-half inches, depending upon the soil and the season.

Yellow varieties listed in order of earliness are Golden Early Market, Spanish Gold, The Burpee or Early Extra Bantam, Whipple's Yellow, Bantam Evergreen, and Golden Sunrise. White varieties, also in order of earliness, are: Early Market, Whipple's Early, Early Evergreen, and Country Gentleman.

Use a weeder or spike-tooth harrow before the plants are up and again when the plants are 3 to 4 inches high. Give frequent shallow cultivation after this to prevent weed growth. Avoid deep cultivation. Suckering is not generally profitable.

Local Discussion Of The Situation Confronting Our Country At Present Time

(Column In Charge of Lawrence Co. W. C. T. U.)

SENTIMENT OF HIGH SCHOOL BOY

When the present bill was submitted to Congress, I felt that our law-makers would never permit such an act as this to mar the statute books of our nation. To my mind, the word beer always carries a suggestion of something undesirable and even offensive, and the majority of my friends seem to have the same opinion.

It has always remained a mystery to me why Congress should spend day after day in shaping and passing such laws as this beer act, and it seems especially incomprehensible in these times when our nation so strongly needs the aid of our Congress in passing legislation designed to lift our nation from this depression. The advocates of the beer bill made a great exaggeration of the amount of revenue that might be expected from this, in order to secure its passage. And so far, the revenue has fallen far short of even the amount that might reasonably be expected.

It is disgusting to watch the leaders of our nation wrangling over the question of whether 3.05 or 3.2 percent alcoholic content makes a beverage intoxicating. So far as I can learn, a person can become intoxicated on liquor containing almost no alcohol if he drinks enough.

The legalization of beer was supposed to do away with such evils as bootlegging and the sale of illegal liquor. But I notice that the bootleggers as they are called, expect to make better beer and sell it cheaper than the legal manufacturers. And concerning the argument that beer would do away with drunkenness, only a few days ago, for the first time in my life I saw a man, who was intoxicated, speeding recklessly through a school zone. I wondered what might have been the result were school being dismissed at that time? Does this speak well of beer or of its argument for ending drunkenness?

The feeling among my friends of my own age seems to be that our nation could live just as well or better without 3.2 beer. The students of today are lining up on the side pledged to fight against these evils. And the youth of today has begun to realize how utterly useless drink is, and he is keeping himself free from the drinking habit. Of course not all hold this opinion, but I believe that my views apply to a great majority of our nation's youth.

When I see beer written into the headlines of our papers almost daily, I wonder if our nation has not gone astray from the high ideals established by our forefathers, and when I see our law-makers, who hold a sacred trust of our nation, wasting day after day in disputing the subject of beer, I begin to wonder if this land of ours is not slipping from its lofty standards. But in the youth of today, who will be the leaders of tomorrow, I find an answer which denotes such things are true.

FRANK DEWBERRY ANNOUNCES NEW FLEETWING GAS

Frank Dewberry who has been selling gasoline at 128 W. Wash. St. for 12 years, announces that sale has begun of the new improved Fleetwing Golden Motor Gasoline. Stepped up by scientific formulas, this new gasoline is the most wonderful product that has ever been offered to the New Castle motoring public. It is absolutely without knock, has marvelous power, easy starting and develops more miles per gallon than has heretofore been thought possible.

Fleetwing officials told me they were coming out with a wonder motor gas," said Mr. Dewberry, "but I never dared hope they would develop one so marvelously good. We have tested it out and have found it to be truly without a peer. The actual rating is so high that the car with the highest compression cannot be made to knock with it. We are certainly going to town with this gas."

Mr. Dewberry also announced that he has no connection in any way with any other service station in New Castle.

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars.

The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results.

Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too,—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.

Select Director For Scout Camp

Toledo Girl To Be In Charge Of Girl Scout Camp This August

Miss Evelyn Spencer, of Toledo, Ohio, will be director of New Castle Girl Scout camp during the two weeks period in early August. Camp will be conducted at Camp John M. Phillips, Kennedy's Mills, as it has for the past several summers.

Miss Spencer will come to New Castle on June 6 and will be the house guest of Mrs. W. H. Hanger, local camp chairman, for a few days. She will look over the camp grounds, meet the members of the camp council and talk over with them the program plans.

With the Sharon Girl Scouts joining the New Castle girls in camp this summer, it will be packed to capacity without any doubt. Because of this, it is more than usually expedient that the local girls register their intentions of attending just as soon as possible. Registrations should be made with the troop captains.

Arrangements have been completed for Sunday church services. Catholic girls will be brought into New Castle each Sunday morning in order that they may attend church. Protestant girls who desire to do so may attend Sunday school at the nearest church of the vicinity, or they may stay in camp where Sunday school will be conducted.

Each Sunday evening a vesper service, "Scout's Own," will be conducted for all denominations.

It is not yet known how many girls from Sharon will come to the New Castle camp. Last summer, in their own camp, they had 140. It may be that additional tents will have to be secured in order to accommodate all the girls at Camp Phillips.

Dr. W. E. McClure Discusses Beer

Fears That America Is Going In Way Of Repeal Of 18th Amendment

DECRIES LET-DOWN IN BATTLE BY DRYS

"We are going in the direction that will mean outright repeal of the 18th Amendment," declared Rev. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church Sunday night when he preached on 3.2 beer. "I am convinced," said he, "there has been a complete change in America and people are ready to repeal the 18th amendment."

While his statements indicated a belief that repeal would come, there was no suggestion of a weakening of the fight against repeal in his address. It was a fighting sermon, suggestive of the days of the Flying Squadron, an appeal to church people to get out and fight the issue now at hand, with the promise that unless they did, defeat would be their portion.

Won't Be Satisfied
"You can't tell me that people are going to be satisfied with this 3.2 beer," said Rev. McClure. "It may not be intoxicating, I do not know, but I do know that it will form a habit for stronger drink and the next step is a demand for whiskey and mixed drinks."

"I have kept my peace in this matter, but the time has come for me to give my testimony. This pulpit is my throne and from it I shall cry out against all forms of iniquity. My convictions go deep enough in the matter of prohibition to make me a militant reformer."

"My memory goes back to the days of the legalized saloon. Those were the days when the choicest locations in business districts were taken over by the saloon. The cost of setting up business was small. All one needed was a long bar, a brass rail for men to rest a leg on, and the brewer and the distiller did the rest. Bartenders were men of no particular training, all they needed to know was how to draw beer from the barrel and how to operate the cash register. There was always gambling, for gambling and drinking have always been twin sisters."

Decries Let Down
Rev. McClure decried the let down in the schools and churches of the educational drive against liquor and said that the wets had caught the drys asleep, and through organized propaganda had convinced the nation that the time had come for repeal.

He challenged the Christian people to get into the fight and demonstrate some of the old time vigor which put the saloon out of business, and at the close of his sermon asked all those who would pledge themselves to be teetotalers, to stand up. With few exceptions the audience arose.

As a musical feature of the evening service Sunday evening, the Intermediate choir sang a number of special selections. The church was comfortably filled both upstairs and down.

Shabbuoth Festival At Temple Israel

Beginning Of Feast Of Weeks Will Be Celebrated Tuesday With Chanting

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will celebrate the Shabbuoth Festival, known also as "The Feast of Weeks," with a service on Tuesday evening, May 30, at 5:45. Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfeld officiating. The prayers and the Kiddush will be chanted in the traditional festival melodies that have become so dear to the hearts of the Jewish people throughout the centuries. It is expected that a large group of worshippers will be present to usher in this festival in the proper spirit.

Shabbuoth—The Feast of Weeks.
The Jewish Pentecost or Feast of Weeks (Shabbuoth) will be celebrated on Wednesday, May 31, and by Orthodox Jews on the day following also. Its name is derived from the fact that it is celebrated seven weeks after the second day of Passover. All the biblical injunctions as to the manner in which the feast was to be observed indicate that it was originally agricultural in character. It was in reality a season of thanksgiving for the harvest that had been reaped. The ceremonial offerings prescribed were in keeping with the God-given gifts of the soil that had been gathered.

In post-biblical times this feast was observed as the anniversary of the birth of Judaism with the promulgation of the Divine Law at Sinai. On this "Day of the Giving of the Law," as it was called by the rabbis, the Ten Commandments constitute part of the Scripture readings in the Synagogue. It is this historical emphasis of the feast that has been emphasized in the non-agricultural life which the Jews were compelled to live for centuries.

When the Reformed Synagogue introduced the rite of confirmation for the Jewish youth, the Pentecost, by virtue of its traditional association with the ancient revelation, was the day most naturally selected for the ceremony. Through an impressive public ceremony, young boys and girls are instilled with the meaning of the Jewish faith and with the duty of leading a religious and moral life.

The agricultural side of the feast, however, was not lost sight of, in fact it was customary to decorate home and synagogue with plants and flowers in season. In addition to a portion from the Pentateuch, the charming story of Ruth was prescribed in the synagogue because of the idyllic scene of harvesting which it contains was in keeping with the celebration of the harvest feast.

Two Killed At Indianapolis

Pennsylvania Driver And Mechanic Killed In Crash While Qualifying

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—Undaunted by the crash which killed William Denver of Audubon, Pa., and Robert U. Hurst of Indianapolis, aspirant for tomorrow's 500-mile automobile race, gathered at the Indianapolis motor speedway today for a last fling at the qualification trials.

Rain cut the trials off yesterday 45 minutes before the time allotted for conclusion of the tests, but a full field of 42 starters was assured by the 14 drivers who passed the 100-mile-an-hour test. Thirty had previously qualified.

Denver was at the controls of the speedster yesterday when the car got out of control as it whirled into the turn coming from the back stretch. The car went through the retaining wall, hit a tree and caught fire. Both men were badly burned, although thrown clear of the wreckage, and died before receiving hospital treatment. It was the fourth accident of the qualification trials.

Denver, an experienced pilot who raced here two years ago, was driving the same car in which Al Aspen of Philadelphia was slightly injured a week ago when he had a mishap.

P. H. C. Memorial Service Attracts Large Congregation

Rev. Rees T. Williams Delivers A Fitting Sermon On This Occasion

Memorial services of New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle, for the second consecutive year, were held Sunday evening at the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street, with a large congregation in attendance, including many members of the order for which the services were held.

Rev. Rees T. Williams, the pastor, delivered a fine sermon in keeping with the occasion, taking as his text the 13th verse of the fourth chapter of the Second Epistle of Paul to Timothy. He drew attention to the fact that it was the memories that the departed ones had left behind them, that would live on and endure.

An immense wreath with lights equal in number to the number of members, who passed on during the past year, was so arranged, that during the service as Mrs. Anna Lyden Gulinski read the names, that a light ceased to gleam, until the entire number, twenty in all had been extinguished. Mrs. Belle Kennedy, chaplain, answered "Absent" as the roll was called.

The deceased members, whose memory was honored last night, were as follows: Anna E. Shaffer, Jesse N. Rice, Lena M. Lowers, Elizabeth Sneyd, John C. McCombs, George W. Houston, Belle S. Ice, Charles C. Robinson, Susan Jones, Mary J. McCommon, Frank E. Cunningham, Rebecca Davidson, John D. Warnock, Maria Clark, Sadie Ward, Jay L. Platt, Elizabeth Shelar, William Reiber, Lillie B. Jones and Nora Davies.

Special music featured the occasion. Grifff Thomas directed the congregational singing with Mrs. John M. Evans presiding at the organ as accompanist. The Men's Chorus in rendering its selections was directed by Councilman D. O. Davies and Cliff James was accompanist.

The service opened with the hymn Diadem, after which Old Welsh hymn Aberswyth was sung. The service was concluded with the singing of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul". The numbers rendered by the men's chorus were Comrades In Arms and Dies Irae. David Lewis rendered a special solo during the service.

The committee of New Castle Circle in charge of the affair consisted of David Tucker, Harry Mohrman, Mamie Stapleton, Mrs. Anna Lyden Gulinski, A. L. Conn and Mrs. Mabel Tucker.

Poppy Day Held Here Saturday

Returns For Day Are Slightly Under Those Of Past Years

While Saturday's poppy day, held by the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was not as big as in past years, the results were most encouraging, General Chairman George D. Christoph stated today.

The number of poppies sold was far below the number in past years, but the average amount paid per poppy was not far below the average of the past.

Around 5,000 poppies were distributed to patriotic citizens of the community by the post, it was stated.

Stocks Continue On Climb Upward

Bullish Enthusiasm Remains In Stock Market Despite Profit-Taking

(International News Service) NEW YORK, May 29.—Bullish enthusiasm was still rampant in Wall Street today and the stock market added gains of 1 to more than 6 points on top of last week's spectacular uprush in the face of enormous profit-taking.

Trading continued at a mad pace and alternating waves of buying and profit-taking sent the high speed ticker behind the whole forenoon. At one time it was 13 minutes late.

While leaders of the recent boom like American Telephone and Allied Chemical showed losses of 1 to 4 points at one time, the rest of the market pushed to new highs. Auburn was spectacular. Other strong groups were the oils, coppers, rails and aviation issues.

Commodities followed the pattern of stocks, suffering as shakeout in the early dealings and rallying later. Bonds were firm while the dollar strengthened.

The market was a rapid fire affair with speculative tides shifting quickly. The bulls were in the saddle, however, influenced by fresh business gains.

Eleven Lawrence county veterans of the Civil war—the county's proud contribution to the Grand Army of the Republic—sat in "honor chairs" at the Rotary club's annual Memorial Day luncheon today and heard the Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, declare that young America will strive with might and main to "keep our flag waving high over a peace-loving, peace-seeking people."

The Highland pastor turned time and again to face the veteran soldiers as he delivered a patriotic address that featured the memorial program. It was held at The Castleton.

Commander D. M. Clark of the Lawrence County Post No. 100, sitting in the center of the speakers' table, introduced his comrades to the club one by one. Several gave fitting responses.

With Commander Clark were Philip Wagner, R. H. Wilson, I. H. Cooper, Henderson G. Sharp, John A. Rogers, John D. Patterson, John B. Caldwell, Edward Welty, James Haddon and Comrade Hoose.

President W. J. Caldwell, opening the meeting, called upon Chairman R. A. Eckles of the club's program committee, who promptly called upon Fred L. Bentz to present Commander Wagner.

It was a fitting welcome that Mr. Bentz spoke for the Rotarians, and in words well chosen and most sincere, the aged post commander responded. Then came the introductions.

A large number of guests, including former Superintendent of Schools George Dickson, Ocean City, Cal.; Alex Williams, Philadelphia, and Rotarians Guy, Stedman and Sharp, all from surrounding towns, attended the luncheon.

Police Regulations For Memorial Day Announced By Chief

Asks Motorists To Assist In Making Parade Route Free Of Access

Chief of Police John F. Haven today announced the police regulations in effect Memorial Day all morning until noon. The regulations are for the purpose of making it possible to hold the annual Memorial Day parade without interference and the chief asks that all motorists assist by observing these regulations.

There will be no parking permitted until noon Memorial day as follows: Sycamore way between Mill and Mercer streets, Mercer from Washington street to North street, on the east side of North Jefferson street from North to Grant street, Greenwood avenue from Washington street to the cemetery entrance, in the cemetery on the line of march.

At the time the parade is crossing the West Washington street bridge, all traffic other than the parade will be stopped until the parade has completely crossed over the bridge, which is being repaired.

Former Resident Now A Minister

Rev. David W. Jenkins and wife of West Middlesex, Pa., spent the week-end here with the former's parents. Mr. Jenkins spent the greater part of his life here and is well known. He is a graduate of the Eastern Nazarene college at Duxbury, Mass., and has been preaching for some little time. During the past year he acted as supply for the Bethany Lutheran church. On Sunday he was present at the Pentecostal church on Pearson street. He is a member of the World Faith Ministerial association.

AGED MAN IS QUITE SEVERELY INJURED

Vite B. Shoeff of 235 Meyer avenue was knocked unconscious and quite severely injured, when he collapsed as he was walking at Highland and Meyer avenues between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Apparently he was overcome by the heat or a weakened condition. In falling his head hit the curb and he also struck the iron pole on which the street signs are placed. He sustained a severe gash on the head and was otherwise injured. He was removed to his home.

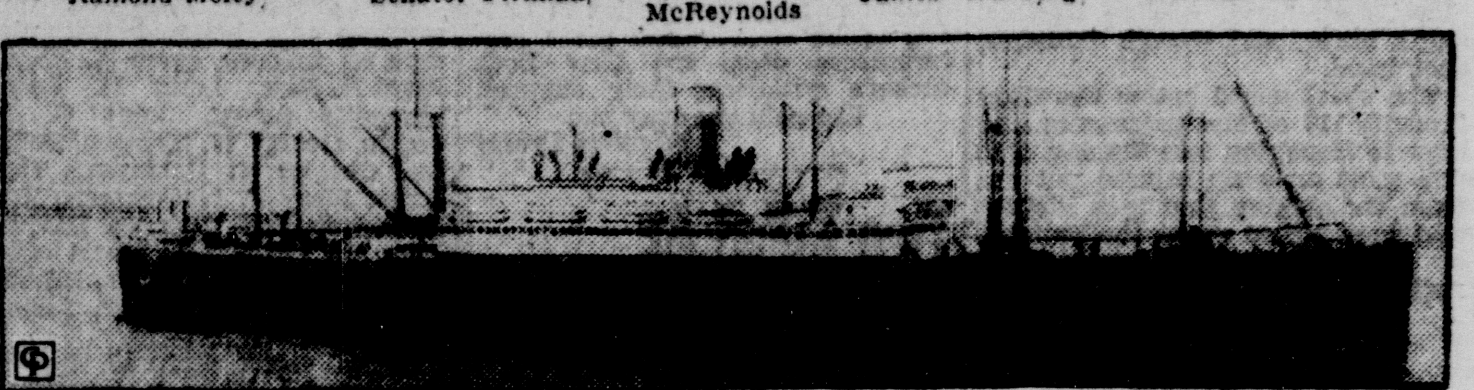

URGE WORLD WAR VETS TO TURN OUT

Commanders of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Legion of Honor, issue an appeal today to the members of these organizations to turn out tomorrow for the Memorial Day parade and exercises. Interest in Memorial Day seems to have lagged during the past few years, and the commanders of these organizations are especially anxious to have their members turn out tomorrow so that a good showing may be made.

To Represent U. S. at London Economic Parley

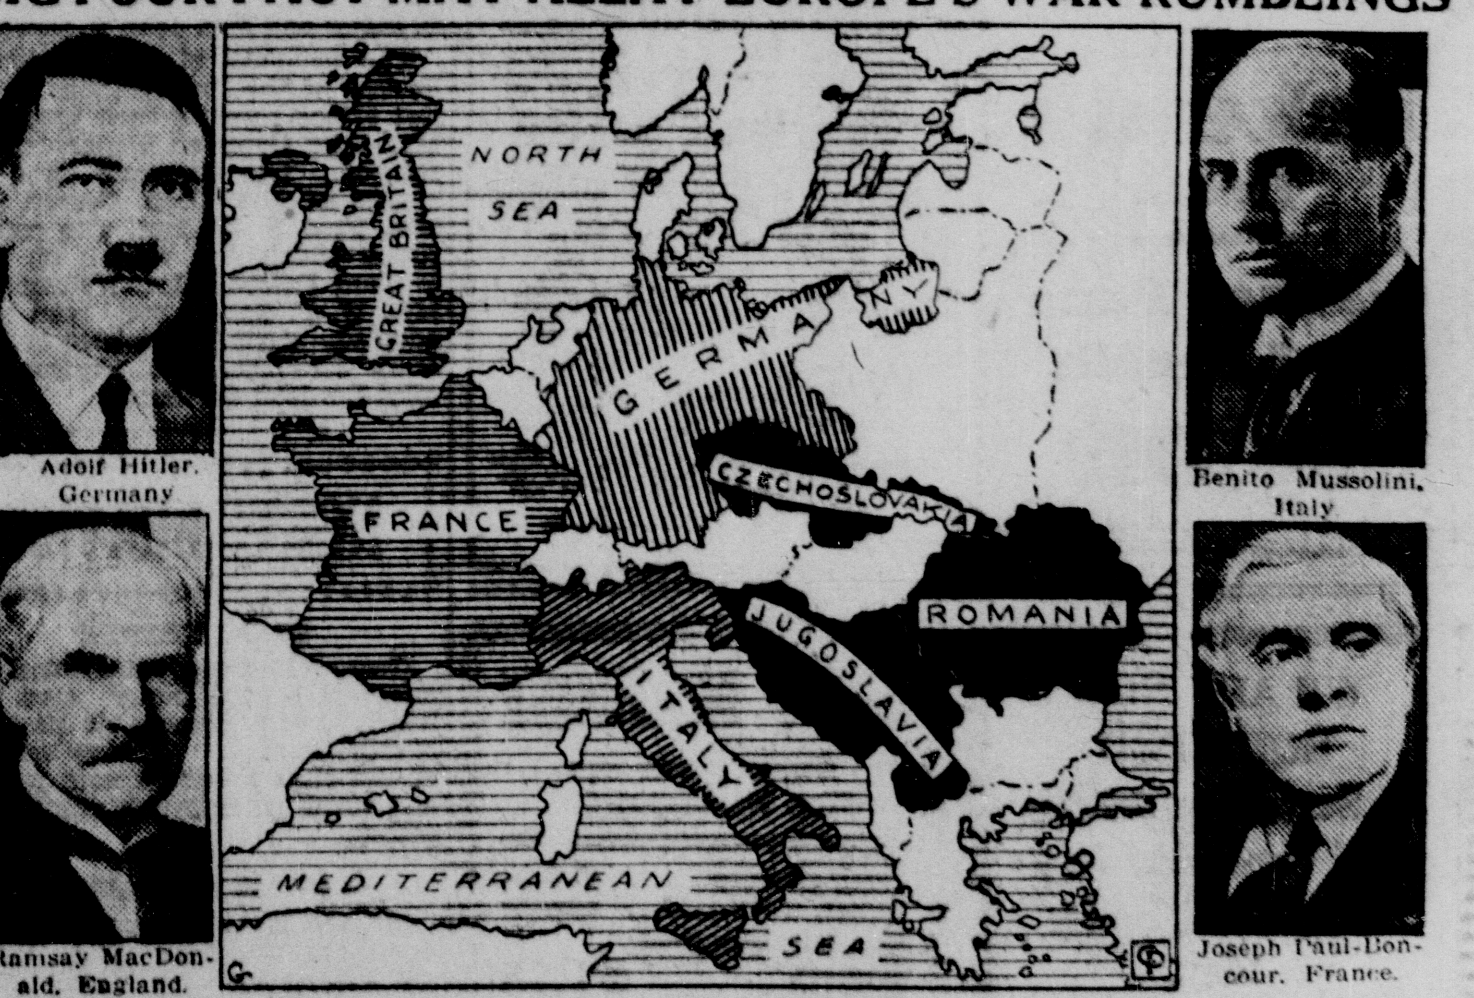

America's delegation to the world economic conference, in London, June 12, is virtually complete, headed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Among the other delegates are Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Prof. S. S. President Roosevelt, Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state; former Gov. James M. Cox, of Ohio; Norman H. Davis, an ambassador-at-large to Europe; Representative Samuel McReynolds, of Tennessee, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee; James Warburg, New York financial adviser to the president, and Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell. Most of the members of the delegation will sail for England aboard the President Roosevelt. Sessions are to be held in the Geological museum, in London.

BOSS OF MUSCLE SHOALS HAS COLORFUL HISTORY

Highlights in the varied career of Arthur E. Morgan, 55, engineer, president of Antioch college, Yellow Springs, O., who has been chosen by President Roosevelt to direct the government's Muscle Shoals development project, are sketched above. The entire program calls for inexpensive electricity for the vicinity, flood control of the river valley and irrigation for the entire section.

BIG FOUR PACT MAY ALLAY EUROPE'S WAR RUMBLINGS

After months of tense anticipation, sparks which threatened to flame into war are at least partially extinguished by Premier Mussolini's proposed 10-year peace pact and the continent is breathing easier. With England and Germany willing to join with Italy in calling a halt on aggression for the next decade, it remains for France to add her stamp of approval. Until now the Little Entente, Roumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, allies of France, have objected to the Mussolini pact because of the possibility of treaty revision. These three countries insist any such revision must be within the provisions of the League of Nations. Whether the acceptance by France of the pact will mean that the Little Entente will also be satisfied is problematical. Map above shows the two groups of countries, also above, are the leaders of the "Big Four" of Europe.

Accident Fatal To Little Girl

Alice Mary McCaslin Dies Of Fractured Skull In Ellwood Hospital

COUNTY CORONER TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

ELLWOOD CITY, May 29.—Little four year old Alice Mary McCaslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCaslin, of Brown's Addition, Ellwood City, died of a fractured skull in the local hospital at 5:30 this morning, as a result of an automobile accident Sunday night on the Ellwood-New Brighton road.

The accident in which the little girl met her death happened at 9:10 o'clock about 75 feet north of the Wiley Hill school house, according to the report given local police by James E. VanGorder, Jr., 628 Line avenue, Ellwood City, driver of the car.

Young VanGorder had been traveling in the direction of this city when the little girl darted out from the side of a house and ran out into the road and directly into the path of his car. The impact knocked her to the concrete unconscious.

Babe Ruth Hits Three Home Runs

Babe Ruth's Three Homers Against White Sox Put Yanks In Safe Position

Ruth And Gehrig Now Tied For Home Run Honors In American League

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 29.—Babe Ruth's feat in walloping three home runs against the Chicago White Sox yesterday was a triple shot heard round the baseball world. The canonading caused the diamond seismograph to register at least half a dozen distinct reverberations, as follows:

1. The old maestro proved anew that the perennial pastime of writing "finis" to his career is still a highly hazardous procedure. He'll be a menace even when they have to cart him up to the plate in a wheelbarrow.

2. The homers enabled the Yankees to win two important ball games, increase their lead over the second-place Senators to two full games and compile the commendable record of eight victories against three defeats in their first home stand against the West.

3. The Babe tied his team mate, Hungry Lou Gehrig, for the lead in the American league home run derby. Each has nine.

4. The two defeats took most of the starch out of the White Sox just when they were beginning to loom as dangerous pennant contenders. They flopped all the way from third to fifth place.

5. Ruth's spree will boost attendance records all along the line when the Yanks go on the road, as Babe is now a greater attraction than ever as the result of his magnificent comeback after a long slump.

6. The revival of the Yankee home run circus, nine circuit clouts in their last four games of which six were made by Ruth and Gehrig, re-establishes the club's reputation as a steam roller and is bound to weaken the morale of rival contenders who hoped the champs were slipping.

The first game marked the first time this season that Ruth has hit three safeties in any one game. He hit one homer and scored the other run as Lefty Gomez took a 2 to 1 decision over Sam Jones. The first of Ruth's two homers in the nightcap was a prodigious wallop, carrying 440 feet. It started the Yanks on the road to a 9 to 7 triumph.

Walberg Licked
Rube Walberg, veteran southpaw, failed the Athletics again. Washington drove him out in the eighth inning, scored four runs and won 7 to 4.

Bob Weiland pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5 to 2 triumph over Cleveland, but the Indians took the second game 11 to 2.

Big Chief Blon Hogsett of Detroit held the Browns tight for five innings and then blew up, St. Louis winning 5 to 3.

Cardinals Advance
The Cardinals and Cubs steamed ahead in the National League race. St. Louis taking second place and Chicago stretching its winning streak to five games. The Cards slapped the Phils down twice, 8 to 7 and 5 to 3, and the Cubs two-timed the Braves, 5 to 1 and 3 to 2. Bill Herman's double in the ninth decided the nightcap, a mound duel between Warneke and Frankfurter. The Cubs tied Cincinnati for fourth place.

The Giants lost to Brooklyn for the first time this year, 5 to 4, and dropped to third place. The batting of Frederick and Hack Wilson helped the Dodgers snap a losing streak of the straight.

Eppa Jephtha Alpha Omega Rixey, venerable southpaw, pitched the Reds to their first victory of the season over Pittsburgh, 4 to 0, after the league leaders had copped the first game of the double bill 4 to 2, behind French's pitching.

Expect Geneva To Retain Track Title

BEAVER FALLS, May 29.—Since the inception of the Tri-State conference track and field championships seven years ago Dr. Robert Park's Geneva proteges have always finished first, 1933 is not expected to be a year of exception for Geneva is favored to retain her honors at Reeves stadium here May 30. It is the general consensus of opinion that the Covenanters present a too well balanced array for the remainder of the league schools to upset.

McLarnin And Corbett Await Sound Of Bell

Jimmy McLarnin Will Try To Regain Welterweight Championship Tonight

YOUNG CORBETT IS GREAT BOXER

By WALLACE K. RAWLES
International News Service Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., youth known as "The Belfast Spider," a deadly right handed puncher, was confident today as he prepared to answer the bell at Wrigley Field tonight for a 10-round title fight with Young Corbett, III, who holds the world's welterweight championship. Tabbed "washed up" six years ago, the Irish-American boy hit the comeback trail, and returned to knock at the door marked "world champion," with fire in his eyes and dynamite in his fists, for one purpose—

To polish off Young Corbett in decisive fashion.

"How I'll win is something I can't predict. It may be by a knockout. I hope so," McLarnin said. Ticket offices indicated that the fondest hopes of promoters for a crowd of 40,000 fans and a "gate" in excess of $100,000, would come true. All the higher priced seats—the top was $5.50—were sold several days ago. Perfect weather was forecast.

Corbett's guarantee is $35,000, while McLarnin will receive 22½ per cent of the "gate."

Would Change Track Program

Seek To Remedy Condition Where Coast Track Team Wins I. A. A. A. Annually

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 29.—They've preserved for years the bogus air of that greatest of all frauds the gracious and gallant loser who is happy though defeated, because only in this way can they escape the onus of a self-confessed inferiority. Nevertheless, it will be necessary sooner or later, just for the sake of appearances, for the Intercollegiate A. A. A. to do something about re-introducing at its meet the element of chance which caused it to start a set of championship games fifty-seven years ago.

These were won on Saturday by the University of Southern California. They were won last year by the University of Southern California and for nine straight years they have been won either by the University of Southern California or by Stanford. Moreover, for twelve of the last thirteen years, the meet has been won by one of three California colleges.

Unduly Alarmed
I trust I'm not being unnecessarily alarmed. But, to me, this seems conclusive. They not only have the better men but more of them.

In fact, the only "out" open to eastern colleges from now on is to darken the living room and deny themselves to visitors. The alternative is to bring in so many that, in the general bluster and uproar, guest and host may have something more nearly resembling an equal chance. This latter, if at all feasible, would be a pleasant solution, since the Californians must be pretty weary themselves of the monopoly by this time and doubtless would welcome the novelty of a little competition.

Won Flying Award

For his work in flying food to a tribe of Navajo Indians, cut off from civilization by a blizzard in Arizona last year, Lieutenant Charles R. Howard, U. S. Army Air Corps, is to be awarded the Mackay Trophy for the most meritorious flight of 1932. He is the commander of the 11th U. S. bombardment squadron.

Setting a Record

Clifton Flats Defeat Polish

Clifton Flats Boosters baseball team handed the Polish National Alliance team a 7 to 5 upset Saturday afternoon in a game at the Flats field. Coates on the knoll for the Boosters allowed eight scattered hits. He fanned four men. The Flats had 13 hits off Kwiat and Mehalec.

Mrozek, White, H. Ryan and P. Ryan did the heaviest hitting of the game. The Flats cut short a rally by the Polish boys in the seventh inning that gave them four runs.

Score by innings:
R. H. E.
Polish N. A. 000 001 4-5 3
Clifton Flats 001 240 -7 13 3
Batteries—Clifton Flats: Coates and White; Polish Nationals: Kwiat, Mehalec and Mrozek.
Umpires—Barton and Rowe.

Golf Leaguers Clash Thursday

Teams In League Will Resume Contest On Local Courses Thursday Evening

Teams in the New Castle Golf league will resume their battle for the league supremacy on Thursday evening on the Municipal and Castle Hills courses.

Due to the fact that the rosters of some of the teams were not in the hands of the secretary, there was a mixup in the computation of the scoring between the Blair Strip Steel and Universal Sanitary Pottery. The former team was credited with a loss of one game, which should have been a win, and gives them a standing of 4½ won and 1½ lost, putting them up with the leaders in the race.

The schedule for Thursday evening follows:

Municipal Course.
Pennsylvania Power vs Legion of Honor.
Pennsylvania R. R. vs Reynolds, S. & M.
Rieck-McJunkin vs Shenango Tin.
Castle Hills.
New Castle News vs East Side S. S. Universal Sanitary vs Gersons.
Bell Telephone vs Blair Strip Steel.

WINS STRAWBERRY GROWING CONTEST
The annual county-wide contest among the growers of strawberries for the honor of having the first ripe berries in Lawrence county was won again this year by Clarence McClenahan of Pulaski township. Mr. McClenahan has been winning this competition consistently for several years on his farm near New Bedford. He and his family had the first ripe strawberries of the season on Sunday.

Oil And Gas
New limitations on the capacity for gas is something that will be watched with increasing interest, as the speedsters thunder around the track. It is estimated by officials that each driver will be compelled to stop for gas and oil no less than four times during the 500-mile grind. Thus, authorities believe, will the leadership of the race be changed from time to time.

However, the speed of the race will not be cut down.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Joe Phillips, former player and for the last few years manager of teams in the Middle Atlantic league, is recovering in a Waynesburg hospital from an abdominal operation.

Tracey Cox and Eddie Wolfe will box tonight at Pittsburgh.

Memorial Service Held By Veterans

Harry L. McBride Post, V. F. W., Holds Service In Epworth M. E. Church

Following their custom of the past, members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held their memorial service, in the Epworth M. E. church, Sunday morning.

Mrs. White Appears Before Committee

Testifies in Senate Hearing To Urge Approval of Equal Rights Amendment

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Mrs. Elizabeth White of New Castle, representing the Quota Clubs International, appeared before a senate judiciary sub-committee Saturday to urge approval of the equal rights amendment to the constitution now being considered by the judiciary committee.

Mrs. White testified in conjunction with the program of the National Woman's party. She was introduced by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, chairman of the woman's party.

"I represent 2500 business and professional women throughout the United States," Mrs. White told the committee. "They are interested in the equal rights amendment. These women are particularly interested in equal opportunity for women with men in employment.

"We do not object to protective labor laws, but we know that laws which apply only to women and not to their men competitors place women at a serious disadvantage in the labor market. The very fact that there are more restrictive laws in times of depression shows that they are not so much protective measures for women as they are for men."

NEW GALILEE

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Linzey and daughter, Martha Jane, visited Mrs. Linzey's mother, a patient in the Providence Hospital, Thursday. Mrs. Linzey fell and received a broken arm, an infection has set in and her condition is more serious than was at first believed.

Mrs. Margaret Lambright and Mrs. Jacob Long were recent visitors at the home of their sister, Mrs. J. Lambright, of Enon Valley, who is seriously ill and was removed to the Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

W. U. Tanner is confined to his home by an injured knee. George Grimm has returned home from the Rochester General Hospital and is slowly improving.

Clyde Grimm is drilling test holes for the new railroad near Lisbon, Ohio.

The Nazarene parsonage has been overhauled and a lot of repair work done. It has also been painted, which adds a lot to the looks of the place.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Church of the Nazarene, held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Lulu Martsoff, with Mrs. Chas. Hazen devotional leader.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Dryden are visiting their daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. Olsen Fairchild and daughter Francis of Wellington, O.

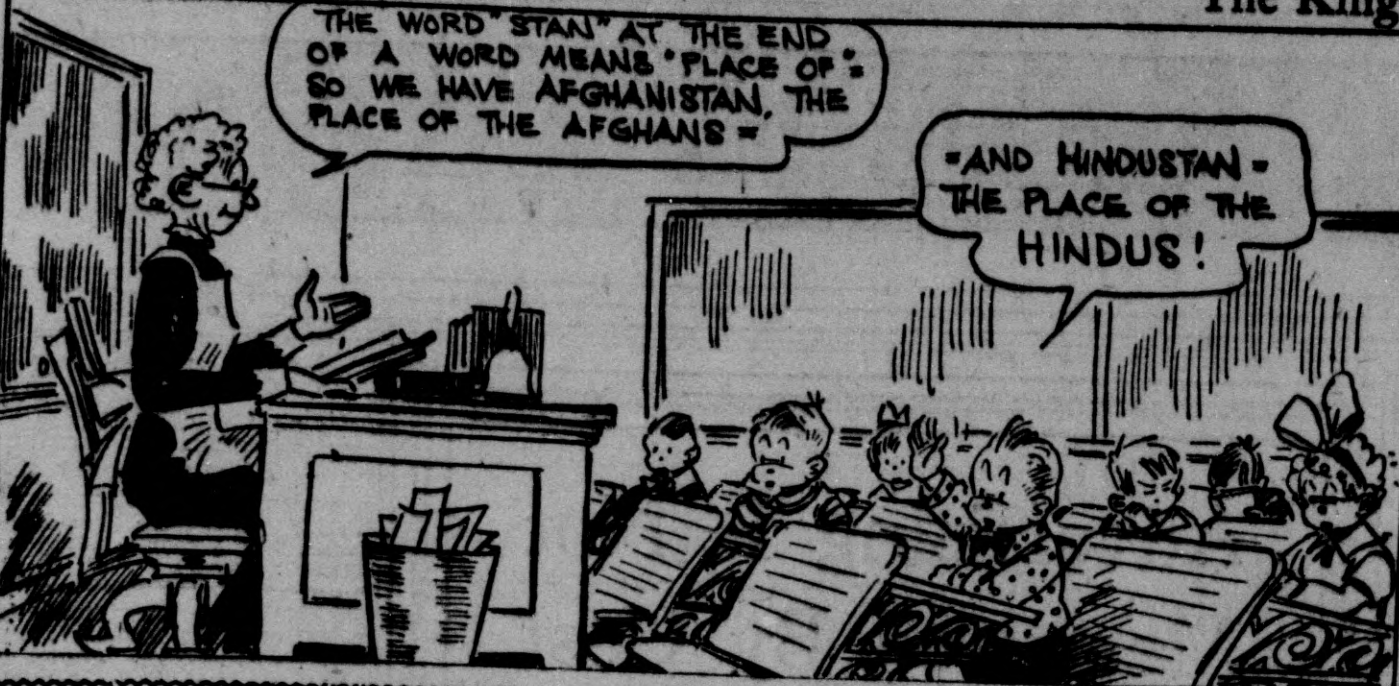

COON AND DEER ON FARM AT PULASKI

H. R. Robinson, of Pulaski reports sighting a doe and young fawn, on his farm recently. Mr. Robinson had noticed tracks about the farm which looked like a calf's track, only more slender, and was on his way to work in the field when he saw the doe and young one.

He also caught a coon in a trap recently, which had been eating his chickens. Something had broken into the chicken coop and had nearly eaten up a large hen. He set a trap, baited with poisoned chicken and in the morning found the dead coon in the trap.

One of the inconsistencies of fashion is cotton pique in white trimming black lace and net evening gowns.

Commencement Exercises Take Place This Morning At Teachers College

STATE EDUCATIONAL OFFICIAL SPEAKER

(Special To The News) SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 29.—"The heart and soul of any educational system is in its teaching staff," declared Henry Klenower, director of the teacher bureau, State Department of Public Instruction, in his address before a large gathering at the commencement exercises of Slippery Rock State Teachers College this morning. Mr. Klenower spoke on the subject of the commonwealth's richest treasure.

"The public school situation has been greatly aggravated by the unemployment among the young," said the speaker. "More than ten thousand high school graduates have returned to repeat much of the work which they have already done well. In this period of depression night schools and kindergartens should be flourishing schools."

Mr. Klenower pointed out the dangers to the commonwealth if inadequate training is given the children. "Give to education," he said, "the same unselfish support that is contributed to the government in times of national crisis and the desirable ends will be obtained. We purchase education as we purchase any other service; it is good or bad as we wish it."

Among other improvements which must be made in education, the speaker stressed the need of raising the standards of teacher preparation, for, as he pointed out, "What the children are to become bears a direct relation to the integrity, intelligence, knowledge and understanding of the average teacher in the average classroom in the average school."

In conclusion Mr. Klenower urged the graduating class to exercise its ability in leadership. He declared, "The philosophy of the statesman has failed us; the philosophy of the financier has led us into chaos. The philosophy of the Great Teacher remains yet untried. In your midst there may be one whose rule of conduct will lead us from chaos to order. The influence of a great teacher may accomplish that in which all others have failed."

Following the address degrees of bachelor of science in education were granted to 27 students, 39 degrees of bachelor of science in health education, and certificates to 106, by Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, president of the college.

Impressive Rites At St. Margaret's

Crowning Of May Queen Takes Place Sunday Afternoon At Local Church

Crowning of May Queen services were conducted yesterday afternoon in St. Margaret's church, corner of Second and Clayton streets. It was a simple and edifying ceremony. Following the crowning of the May Queen, a religious procession wended its way to the beautifully decorated shrine of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Jane Martin, the Queen's Lady, gave a coronation address and placed a wreath of flowers on the image of the Virgin Mary. Prayers were offered and hymns appropriate for the occasion were sung by the children and by St. Margaret's choir. Benediction with the blessed sacrament concluded the services. The following children were the central figures in the ceremony: Miss Gloria Stritzinger—May Queen.

Miss Jane Martin—the Queen's Lady.

Miss Irene Carlin and Miss Mary Catherine Ford—train bearers.

Miss Patricia Cushman and Miss Catherine McGowan—attendants.

Miss Catherine Clark—matron.

Robert Martin, Albert Harvan, James Joseph McGowan and Stephen Prekopi—Knights to the Queen.

Eugene Valley—cross bearer.

Francis Carlin and Harry McGowan—boyz.

John Carlin, James Ronan, William Cushman, and John Thompson—altar boys.

Raymond Carlin—master of ceremonies.

Those present were Genevieve Moss, Beryl McCartney, Betty O'Donnell, Fred Gray, Elene Mullen, Billy Leicht, Joe Cearloss and the honored guest, Dorothy Cushman.

BOY SCOUT TROOP

A regular meeting of the Mahoningtown Boy Scout troop No. 4 was held in the Christian church Friday evening. After the opening ceremonies the troop was shown how to tie knots and shown various exercises that tend to strengthen and control the muscles of the fingers. The boys then played games and had a general good time.

Plans were made for the troop to go to Valley View cemetery on Memorial Day to help the people who visit there during the day. The boys believe that in this way they will be rendering a service to the community.

Scribe, GLENN MCCLURG.

ELECT PRESIDENT

Deacons and deaconesses of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church elected Mrs. W. C. Patterson president and Harry C. Morrison, secretary and treasurer, at an organization meeting conducted in the church Sunday morning directly following the worship service. Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

If automobile traffic is any criterion of returning prosperity, things are looking better. Each week end for the past six the traffic has been increasing and yesterday it looked like old times, with the old time number of near accidents.

It may have been the holiday traffic getting under way, or perhaps the sunshine had the boys jittered, but it was no place for a nervous lad to be. By Tuesday morning the highways are going to be good places to keep off, unless you feel the urge to go out and look Fate right in the nose.

There isn't anything unusual about a former citizen coming back from California to visit, except in the case of Prof. George A. Dickson, who is just now spending most of his waking moments renewing acquaintances with the thousands of young men and women he had under his care as an educator here.

Those of us who had Prof. Dickson as the high school principal have a little closer knowledge of him perhaps, and by the same sign, a little deeper appreciation of his ability. And if ever you tried to slide through a Virgil class without preparation, you can appreciate what a delicious sense of sarcasm he had.

Now that the statute of limitations has closed the case, some of the artists who painted the school red, back about 1909 really should step out and admit who all was in that crowd. They did a rather sneaky job, but it was a rather effective bit of dabbling. And the genius who thought up the idea of painting "Bar" over the office of the principal should really get proper credit now.

Without attempting to name all of the gang, our recollection is that Charley Loveridge had considerable to do with the affair.

A gentleman who is a real friend of the high school band and orchestra, has turned in a suggestion which is being turned over to you if you're interested. It concerns the loan of musical instruments to the students.

There are many families in the city where there are musical instruments lying unused since the boy or girl of the family finished school. The instruments are doing nobody any good and they could be doing a lot of good, loaned to one of the high school musical organizations.

Just now the school board is not spending much money for new instruments, nor are parents who would like to do so. The instruments are needed, and the youngsters need the practice. Why wouldn't it be a real idea to loan that useless instrument to the high school, to be used by some aspiring young musician.

The idea isn't worth anything just now because of the nearness of the end of the school term but next year it would be right down the alley of a lot of youngsters. That trumpet, or cornet, saxophone or clarinet that is gathering dust is good for a lot of tunes yet if you don't mind loaning it to the high school band or orchestra.

Memorial Day comes tomorrow. A day when we pause for a moment or two and offer up a little homage to those boys who never came back. From Gettysburg, from Cuba or from the Argonne.
